

AWHONN Intermediate Fetal Monitoring Course

This course addresses principles of fetal heart monitoring and may be used as a knowledge assessment tool to validate the comprehension of experienced perinatal clinicians. This course includes lectures and hands-on skills stations, including performing Leopold maneuvers, placement of an intrauterine pressure catheter and fetal spiral electrode, interpretation of fetal monitoring tracings using a case-based approach, identification of physiologically based clinical interventions, and communication and risk management principles. This course can be used to support preparation for certification examinations.

Learning Outcomes:

- Interpret fetal heart rate monitoring using NICHD terminology within a safety culture framework of interdisciplinary teamwork
- Describe clinical interventions and related maternal-fetal physiology to optimize fetal oxygenation
- Demonstrate collaborative communication in the perinatal setting
- Demonstrate common perinatal procedures related to fetal monitoring

Course Format:

Successful completion of online prerequisite education is required prior to attending the one-day in-person portion of the course.

- Prerequisite online learning approximately three hours.
- In-person is eight hours and includes time for lunch and breaks

Nursing contact hours/CME credit will be awarded after the successful completion of the online knowledge validation test and evaluation after the in-person course and is required to receive nursing contact hours/CME credit for the course. 11.5 total nursing contact hours/11.5 CME credit available (0.5 hours towards pharmacology).
