

The Iowa Perinatal Quality
Care Collaborative presents:

Bipolar Disorder, OCD, and Postpartum Psychosis

June 11, 12-1PM

Rebecca Lundquist, MD

Perinatal Psychiatrist

Program Director, Broadlawns-UPH Psychiatry Residency

The IPQCC is pleased to offer a webinar series on Perinatal Mood Disorders designed for obstetrical providers and nurses. The series will deliver practical guidance to strengthen knowledge and confidence in caring for patients with mood disorders in your practice. All sessions will be recorded, with CME and CEUs available both live and on-demand.

Following this session, participants will have the knowledge to:

1. Interpret less common findings in a mental health history and screening performed in the obstetrical setting
2. Understand why it is important to differentiate unipolar and bipolar mood symptoms and how to do so
3. Understand the difference between symptoms of obsessive-compulsive disorder and psychosis
4. Respond appropriately to a patient with probable postpartum psychosis
