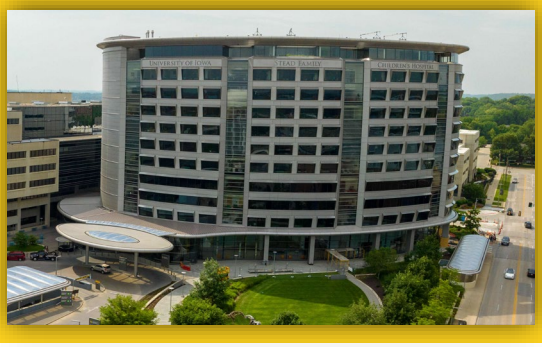
Pediatric Pain & Palliative Care Annual Conference:
Embracing the Challenge of Complex Conversations



Friday, November 15, 2024
Radisson Hotel and Conference Center
1220 1st Ave, Coralville, IA 52241

Intended Audience

All health care practitioners, including physicians, nurses, nurse practitioners, social workers, child life specialists, physical therapists, etc., who care for pediatric patients with chronic conditions

Objectives

1. Recognize how complexity influences decision making and how to use decision narratives as tools.
2. Apply critical thinking skills to determine how to go through a complex conversation with a family.
3. Describe the experience of families who have children receiving palliative care support.
4. Describe the layers beyond the words and how they impact families and clinicians.
5. Understand why self-care is important but difficult for healthcare professionals.
6. Discover how self-awareness, self-compassion, and self-advocacy are foundational for self-care.
